The Hawaiians May Have an Opportunity to Yote.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) The Situation at Rio Still Very Much in Doubt.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) A high British official received a dispatch from Rio de Janciro saying that the insurgents were again bombarding the city.

The dispatch adds that the banks and business offices are closed and business is at a standstiff. In reference to the statement that the foreign admirals are undecided as to what they should do in view of the Brazilian government's preparation for defense, a high official in London says the action of Brazil in receiving forts in the city made intervention extremely difficult. He thought that unless Brazil abandoned her new defenses, intervention on the part of foreign ships would be impossible.

The Race Not Finished in the Appointed Time.

Mysterious Delay of the American Craft-The Brisher Has Everything Her Own Way-Great Interest in the Event.

Py Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(By the Associated Press. Baffled by light winds, the yachts Vigilant and Valkyrie which started today on the first of the international races for the America's cup, were compelled to abandon the contest. The English cutter was then a mile in advance of the Vigilant, and the point from which they started about six hours before was yet miles

It was a keen disappointment to thousands who had stood by the rails and clung to the vantage ground on board of the steamer all day. The overpowering attractions of the big race between the British and American rize-winners drew the biggest flotilla that ever sailed to Sandy Hook to see yachts race, and every boat was crowded, too. From the deck of the steamer Republic, an Associated Press reporter dispatched carrier pigeons with the earliest news of the start finish and progress of the contest.

There was, as a matter of fact, no ictual contest between the yachts, but under today's conditions, it was to be admitted that the Valkyrie had every thing her own way. The little wind prevailing was close to due northwest and the Regatta Committee decided that the boats should start away to the leeward for the first fifteen miles and return to the windward. The in-ternational racers, lying close to the starting point, were busy-with preparations till well on to 11 o'clock, when they began to make sail. There was a general remark that the Vigilant's sail area was greater than that of her

When the preparatory gun was fired, he Valkyrie came around and found position under the Vigilant's arter. Both boats then line. It was only forty seconds after the starting gun was fired that the Vigilant got over the line. The English boat was about six lengths behind. When two miles out the center-boarder gained half a minute of

During the first two miles, the breeze freshened up a bit, but scarcely had a spurt made itself known than it died out and left less air than prevailed previously. From then the boats entered into a drifting match. They were pretty nearly half a mile ahead, when the accident of the day occurred. The Vigilant was seen to point off to the leeward, as though about to enter new waters. The appearance of a row-boat gave a foundation for the belief the American yacht had lost a man overboard, and was lying to to pick him up. This opinion was lost in the minds of those who held it, when they saw the American boat continue to the leeward. It transpired later that the boat simply lost wind, and could not hold her helm.

It was fully a quarter of an hour before the Vigilant made any indica-tions of picking up her heels again. By that time her adversary was so far By that time her adversary was so far ahead that it was generally conceded that the English boat must win the race, unless a good stiff breeze should spring up. The wind began to haul to the southward, and the yachts had to make a tack to reach the outer buoy. In this work, the Vigilant gained no little on the Valkyrie. The Valkyrie rounded the buoy amid the shriekings of steam whistles.

Twenty-six minutes after this, the greater clamor. She was a mile behind, and had to allow over a minute and three-quarters. If it had been a run home, it is doubtful if the Vigilant, with near handling to the outer mark with poor handling to the outer mark, could have overcome the obstacles.

When about half of the homeward journey was completed, Lord Dun-raven, who was on his own boat, hailed a tug, asked for a tow-line, and was brought back to the bay under steam-power. Almost simultaneously did Mr. Iselin, on the Vigilant, deter-mine to do the same thing.

There will be no race tomorrow, but another attempt will be made on Satur-

Smaller press associations existed for New England, the Southern States and the Pacific States. "These were all associations of leading newspapers in their respective districts, and exchanged the general news of the day according to arrangements made between themselves. These co-operative associations were composed of the newspapers of both political parties, hence the news collected was non-partisan in character, and not colored to promote any special interest. It is a corporation in which three or four menown exarly all of the stock, and its business is to earn dividends for the stockholders. During the past year they succeeded in getting control of New York papers, and have been attempting to supplant the Western Associated Press, the object being to monopolize the whole news-gathering business of the country for personal profit. An Indictment Against W. J. Raymond.

He Pleads Not Guilty and Hunts Bondsmen.

A Similar Charge Was Made Two Years Ago.

Vitnesses to Be Brought from Californ An Additional Complaint for Using the Mails—The California Papers,

SPRINGFIELD (O.,) Oct. 5 .- (Special.) The United States grand jury has finally returned an indictment against Walter J. Raymond of Dayton, O., charged with gigantic land swindles in California and Arizona. Raymand, on being arraigned before Judge Sage at Cincinnati to day, entered a plea of not guilty, and, upon motion of Frank M. Compton, his attorney, the trial was set for hearing on November 13, in order to give the defense an opportunity to bring his witnesses from California. Judge Sage fixed the bail at which Raymond claimed he would get by returning to Dayton. Incase it is not forthcoming he will be remanded to jail. The indictment returned against Raymond is but one of several which, it is expected, will be found by the grand jury. Raymond's case is one that has attracted wide attention. He advertised about three years ago to sell California land and to plant it in fruit, cultivate it and to divide the profits, receiving so much cash for the land and the balance to be taken out of the profits. The claim of fraud against him is that the land is arid and unproductive.

Because he sent circulars through the mails which advertised the ground as being well provided with water, and in all respects suited for cultivation, an additional charge of using the mails for fraudulent purpose is made against him. Similar charges against Raymond were brought before Dist.-Atty. Herron by the postoffice authorities at Wash-ington in December, 1891, and an order was made for his prosecution. The matter was at that time thoroughly investigated by Dist.-Atty. Herron in conjunction with Hon. Channing Richards, who arrived at the conclusion that there was no case against Ray-

Dr. Pond believed that unregistered Chinese should register, and did not believe in harshly criticising our own government. Rev. snapper contestants were admitted the Hill men reckoned that they would have control of the convention, and for this reason it was decided to deal gently with the anti-snappers, who were contesting fourteen districts.

An early adjournment was taken, and it is understood that the original convention over till tomorrow is to learn as much as they can about the intentions of the Republicans, who meet tomorrow in Syracuse. Further proceedings in the convention must be of the most formal character, as every step arranged by the anti-Cleveland machine is made up by the delegations of the Congress districts. Only one anti-Hill member of the committee secures a place. On the authority of a member of the sub-committee the platform to be presented tomorrow declares for absolute and unconditional repeal of the Sherman law. The same authority declares that the tariff will not be touched.

Final Adjournment of the Bimetallic Conference.

Delegate Skaggs of Alabama-The Minority Report Withdrawn-The Convention Moved to Cheers-Another Convention if Necessary.

Bu Telegraph to The Times. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) The last day of the Pan-American Bimetallic Convention opened an hour late, but with the purpose of completing its work without further delay. The Committee on Resolutions presented as any learner and the committee of the committee olutions presented a supplemental re-port, unfavorably passing upon the proposition of Thomas Warren to take action looking to the indorsement of the removal of the National capital further west; also favoring the print ing and circulation of the addresses of yesterday by Walter N. Allen of Kansas upon the "exception clause" of the silver law. The report was adopted without dissent. The question then oc-curred upon the adoption of the report of the Resolution Committee.

Delegate Waterbury of Kansas moved the amendment of the report by the addition of a proposition pre-sented by H. M. Taylor of Mexico fa-voring an increase of the volume of currency by the issue of legal tender currency by the issue of legal tender notes secured by land values. Delegate Cochrane of Missouri opposed all efforts to say or do anything in the convention upon the money question other than to fully and entirely indorse the free coinage of silver.

M. H. Taylor of Mexico replied in defense of his proposition, urging that money based upon such security is as safe as money based upon the honor of our government, as are the $346,000,000 of greenbacks.

safe as money based upon the honor of our government, as are the $346,000,000 of greenbacks.

Delegate Waterbury of Kansas, upon the text of a $5.71 per capita public and private debt, pleaded for an increase of the volume of currency with which to meet it by the means proposed in the minority report from the Committee on Resolutions.

Gov. Tillman of South Carolina spoke briefly, declaring it was the desire of his committee to concentrate the efforts of the convention upon the central purpose of bimetallism, and, for that reason, it seemed to him unwise to seek more now, no matter how alluring the prospect.

Gov. Waite of Colorado begged the convention not to be diverted from the one great issue until the success of bimetallism had shown Wall street to have lost its grip upon legislation.

The West and South could control the politics of the country if it became necessary. He declared that there were millions of money now in Washington to buy Congress, and with such a condition, the South and West must unite. Delegate Manning of Alabama declared the readiness of the South for union with the West in the battle for the free coinage of silver, but pleaded for the prevention of the addition of any extraneous matter to the platform as a divertion of the purposes of the convention.

as a diversion of the purposes of the convention.

Delegate Skaggs of Alabama spoke in a similar strain, also denouncing President Cleveland as an enemy and betrayer of the people, Delegaces Taylor, Waterbury and Waite withdrew the minority report, and a motion to adopt the majority report was made.

At the afternoon session S. S. King of Kansas City presented a report of the doings of the recent Guif Transportation conference at Chicago, and pleaded for a new route to the Old World.

Governor Tillman of South Caroline pleaded for a new route to the Old World.

Governor Tillman of South Carolina then took the floor. He declared the financial question presented but unother form of slavery—white slavery. As to sectionalism, every section had and would vote as its interests demanded. He declared himself a Hamburg rioter, and said that negro domination made him so. He had no apologies to make for attempts to secure honest government by honest men unawed by the bayonets of Grant's soldiers. He cited statistics to show that the West and the South should control the President and the Senate, and were within nine of a majority of the House, and these men could be picked up east of the men could be picked up east of the Mississippi, if the West would not mouth.

Gov. Lewelling answered: "What would the Governor of South Carolina ask? Has not Kansas sent an ex-Confederate to Congress? Was not this an olive, branch of peace? Was it not a sufficient pledge that the old issue was dead, that the bloody chasm was crossed, and the West prepared to do her part?"

crossed, and the West prepared to do her part?"

As Goy. Lewelling closed, Gov. Tillman arose, and the two Governors grasped hands on a common platform, amid cheers, which subsided only when the convention exhausted itself.

With the cessation of cheers, the question was put on the majority report of the Committe on Resolutions, and it was adopted unanimously in the form telegraphed last night. A resolution providing for a national silver convention in January, was withdrawn, and, after transacting some money business, the convention adjourned sine die, after first providing for calling another sine and the silver calling another transacting for calling for call first providing for calling an-convention if deemed necessary by the president and secretary of the Pan-American Bimetallic League.

EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) SENATE.—On motion of Senator Voorhees, the Senate at once proceeded, in executive session, to the consideration of presidential appointments for positions in the Territories, which violated the home-rule plank in the Democratic platform. Speeches were made in opposition to the appointments by Senators Hill of New York, Davis and Washburn of Minnesota, and others.

The appointments discussed were as follows: W. L. Hargrave, agent for the Indians at Western Shoshone agency, Nevada; Isaac J. Woatters of Deleware, at Nevada agency, Nevada; Robert M. Gentlemen: Herewith I return the demand of Tessa L. Kelso, amounting to $200, for expenses as a delegate to the World's Congress of Librarians, without my approval, for the following reasons: You have not complied with section 215 of the city charter, which reads as follows: "No demand can be approved by any board or officer, audited or paid, unless it specify each several item, with the date and amount thereof." I am unable to find any provision in the charte with the date and amount thereof." I am unable to find any provision in the charte with the course of in-this manner.

Very resp. The DH. TEALE, City Auditor.

This is the second demand for junketing expenses of the librarian drawn of the city treasury. The first was some three years ago, when the librarian was granted two months leave of absence at full pay, and on her return a demand for $200 for expenses was prerented. The then City Auditor, F. E. Lopez, refused to approve the demand, and there was considerable controversy over the matter. Finally, however, the Auditor weakened, and late one afternoon approved the demand and delivered it to the charman of the board, when it was paid. The City Ajtorney was at the time preparing papers in an injunction suit, which would have been filed the following morning, but it, of course, fell through when the demand was paid.

In the present case, however, the courts will have an opportunity to pass on the matter. Auditor Teale has taken legal advice, and will establish a precedent. He says that he does not believe the demand is a legal charge against the city, as it is not contemplated that the taxpayers shall pay the personal expenses of high-priced employees receive yonly for the time they actually work. Of course, if the courts declare the claim a valid one, he says he will promptly register it, and will thereafter know what to do in similar cases. The trial, in cast the matter gets into the courts, promises to be an interesting one.

They also asked whether the doctor had any Chinamen cooking medicine for him who were registered. They then said the doctor must pay or they would have him arrested, and, to show their authority, produced a document which was afterward proven to be a personal letter from Charley Stevens, a former Los Angeles Democratic ward-worker, who now has a position under Collector Wise in San Francisco, Mrs Dai further testified that either Hargitt or Monahan told her that she needn't give them the money right there, but could place it somewhere in the yard or in any other location agreed upon.

of the letter the writer states that the editor of the Banning Herald wantetic him to act as San Francisco correspondent, but that he was doing enough of that kind of work already. The pertinent part of the letter, however, and that portion of it which was undoubtedly used to impress Mrs. Dai most forcibly, is the information that "Charley" has been promoted from his former position of opening and packing goods in the Appraiser's building to the more responsible and, at the same time, more lucrative position of examining Chinese certificates and steamer manifestos. Mr. Stevens adds that his hours of labor are now shortened and, his stipend increased $20 per month, and further adds that he secured this advancement entirely on his own merits, and without any outside help. Mr. Stevens also extends a cordial invitation to the "boys" down here to call on him at the Chinese Bureau of Registration whenever any of them should visit San Francisco.

Toward the close of the examination some technicality arose which caused the District Attorney to ask for a two days' continuance until he could hear from Collector Wise, but, upon the defense admitting that Hargitt and Monahan were not United States officers nor in any sense agents of Collector Wise, the case was declared closed.

Commissioner Van Dyke then said he would be compelled to hold the defendants to await the action of the grand jury. Their bail was fixed at $3000 each. Hargitt furnished the necessary security, but Monahan was not so fortunate and was taken to the County Jail. LOS ANGELES THEATER-The Sou-

The Tread of Empire.

Again have the Eastern borders of our ontinent been devastated by fierce which have carried destrucand death all along their path. Hundreds of human lives have been wiped out in an hour's space, and towns and villages swiftly annihilated.

These frequent storms at the East are getting to be regarded as a constant menace to life and property, and as a result, a continual feeling of insecurity exists, and a sense of terror and seizes upon the minds of the more timid in a community upon the appearance of each threatening storm-

Life is not a cheerful thing under such circumstances, and there are hundredes who feel that they would give all that they possess to escape from such elemental terrors and find a place where they do not threaten.

The very fact alone, that we do not visitations in the equable climate of California, will, as it become more widely known, have the tendency to invite a stronger interest in th State, and tend to largely quicken immigration. From all over the country come already general inquiries in re gard to life here. The geography, the productions and the soil and climate of the State are being studied as never pefore. It is a personal interest tha people are feeling in the matter, and are trying to learn all that is possible in regard to us. In studying the exhibits that Southern California has made at the World's Fair, much of the incredulity that has existed in regard to our production and climate has been dissipated, and people at the East no longer judge us rt that we claim too much. They are beginning to admit that the physical constitution of California and its climatic conditions are different from those of other States, and that there even a possibility that we are telling the truth when we talk of our immens and varied crops, our stormless sum mers and delightful freedom from the heat which prevails in other ections of the country from midsummer to autumn. Our exhibits at the World's Fair have been very eloquent apostles of California's progress and of vastness of its' resources. No one is insensible to the logic of results, and the whole world is growing willing to give us credit for the marvelous wealth of soil and climate which belongs to We shall hear less in the future of ignorant carping at oursclaims, and its place shall see the honest desire to learn more of the advantages which have to offer, and a stronger determination on the part of thousands to take advantage of them for their own benefit. There is bound to be a large increase in immigration to California after the World's Fair closes. It is becoming the Utopia which men dream of and long to reach, is regarded by many as the synonym for comfort a place free from many of the ills that

And this is true. The person who has lived for any length of time in this State can never be contented elsewhere, and California offers to the industrious poor man more inducements than al st any other State. To the rich man she is prodigal of promise, and he cannot fail of extracting more comfort from his every-day existence here than can be found anywhere else upon the footstool. California needs only capital and enterprise and population suffi cient for her development to make her by far the richest State in the Union, and the wonder of the whole world To her mineral, agricultural and horticultural wealth there need be practically no limit. In extent she is a vast empire; in the wealth and the variety of her productions she can duplicate every clime. There is no zone whose products are not at home within her borders, and which do not take kindly to her soil. The sea and mountains guard her, giving her a peculiar climate, and one that is satisfying in en have to contend with elsewhere.

The world is not-going to remain in ignorance of this much longer. Its eyes are already upon us, and the tread of empire is sounding in this direction, and the future will see a largely in-creased immigration of a desirable sort rapidly peopling the waste places of the State, and adding rapidly to the growing population of our towns and

It is time that our people realize the fact that the late fall and winter months are the pleasantest of the year at our seaside resorts. [AMUSEMENT RECORD.] AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER .- "The Soudan" blew in at the Los Angeles Theater last night, and the audience victims of misplaced confidence, es caped gradually between the acts. There are possibly worse melodramas on the road than "The Soudan," though but few of them have showed up in this neck of the woods of late, and it is doubtless if this isn't high water mark of all that is utterly no good in the way of dramatic attractions. There are one or two people in the company who seem to have some idea of histrionic art, but their exertions to untangle themselves from the awful mess of rot which the play contains is little else than a painful struggle. At the time the decision was rendered, a copy was mailed to Atty.-Gen. Olney by Dist.-Atty. Denis. This, until overcome by a decision from a higher court, is the law of the land, and Atty.-eGn. The trial of Charley Ah Him will

His defense will be that he is not only a merchant, but also a mpnsy-lender, and that he, in nowise, comes under the definition of the term "Chinese laborer." That he is a highbinder, and that a price was once set upon his head by the police authorities is well-known, but, it is argued, that he has recently led a respectable life, and is now, and was at the the time of the passage of the Geary act, a bona-fide merchant. His attorneys have had nearly twenty subpoenas issued, about one-third being for white men, including several police officers.

Mr. Wiggins suggests that if this portion of the State does anything for the Midwinter Fair, it furnish a citrus exhibit.

The Chamber of Commerce is also in receipt of a letter from Capt. Merry, our delegate to the Kansas Irrigation Convention. He writes that the Salina convention is over, and he is not sorry for it. He visited the irrigation colony at Garden City, in Finny county, and was taken to drive about the place, and says that while the colony made no such showing as Los Angeles, Duarte or Eakersfield, it gave proof of great bearing quality in the way of corn, pumpkins and sweet potatoes. He would not have missed it.

ONLY FIVE WORDS.

They Made the Grand Jury Illegal.

A Single Phrase Too Much Furnishes the Cause.

One Judge Finds Where Another Committed Error.

The Opinion Covering the Points Involved Rendered in the Cases Against the City Bank Officials—Hints That Expense Will Be Saved.

"The premature termination of these cases would be more to be regretted were it not for the fact that the history of grand jury indictments in this county for many years shows an al-most unbroken line of acquittals, which have put the county to great expense without any public benefit."

Manifestly, if the law-makers of the State were of the same opinion as Judge Shaw, the institution of the grand jury would be relegated to the past, and classed among the barbaric and primitive modes of justice from which it sprang as a matter of custom. At least, such was the impression re-ceived by the crowd in the courtroom of Department One yesterday morning when the court read the above de cision in the matter of the legality o

The decision referred to declared that the present grand jury was illegally impaneled, and that the indictments impaneled, and that the indictments found by it were, therefore, of no ef-fect, and not valid charges. There were a number of accused criminals present yesterday morning in court, who were sincerely grateful that the City Bank officials had been in-dicted with them, for were it not for the energetic efforts of counsel for the latter it is more than probable that the organization of the grand jury would organization of the grand jury would never have been seriously brought into question. Since the partial decision made by the court as to his doubt on the question last week, however, the result announced yesterday did not come unexpectedly, and created no sur-prise among those of the legal frater-nity.

Altogether the ground covered by re-Altogether the ground covered by re-search in the matter was most thor-ough, and it would have been strange, indeed, if any point, small as it might be, should have escaped the search of the attorneys engaged in the case, upon which an objection might be made

"The order was in effect equivale to a direction to the Sheriff that and lawful men might be found among them. The law vested in the Sheriff the power and discretion to summon jurors from the entire body of the county. This discretion was to be exercised by the Sheriff, and not by the court. The court had no power to supervise him in its exercise. No improper conduct in summoning theer jurors is charged, and if its effect in the case of this jury alone was the only question, it might properly be involved, as if to sound the views of the court.

Judge Shaw denied the motion to dismiss the indictment in Mr. Appel's

Judge Shaw denied the motion to dismiss the indictment in Mr. Appel's case, and then the brigade of attorneys for the City Bank officials stepped in and did their part of the work by taking up technical points in attacking the validity of the grand jury's acts, the result of which was contained in Judge Shaw's opinion rendered yesterday. The court, by whom summons were issued, got in a few words too many in his special venire, and then the method of impaneling grand jurors has been somewhat changed, so the present members of the august body are out of a job, and the county is out about $2500 paid to the aforesaid jurors for labor performed.

about $2500 paid to the aforesaid jurors-for labor performed.

From the paragraph quoted it would seem that Judge Shaw is convinced that the discharge of the grand jury at this juncture will work a saving of expense by preventing some of the cases comig to trial, at no small cost, and end in the defendants being ac-quitted.

Messrs. Park, Childress and Betts Messrs. Park, Childress and Betts filed into the courtroom yesterday shortly before 10 o'clock and took their seats. Betts and Fark did not sit down in the prisoners' row, but occupied chairs in the jury box, along with a number of attorneys, who had gathered to listen to the proceedings. Mr. Childress was not at all particular where he sat, and did not seem to mind the near presence of Burglar Carnahan, who was close by.

The Sheriff rapped for order as the court mounted the bench, and some said that it would not justify the notice of the court. But as was said of a similar question in the case of Bruner vs. Superior Court, 92 Cal., on page 243: 'In determining whether or not there formed as to its particular contents, so the court began reading. The opinion is as follows:

"The defendants in this case have presented to the court two motions, the first being a motion to set aside the indictment, and the second a motion to dismiss the action. A number of grounds are set forth as reasons for setting aside the indictment, but I do not deem it necessary in this opinion to notice them all. The first ground is that the names of fifteen of the grand jurors were selected from the list of names placed in the grand jury box by the Board of Supervisors in January last, and that the law authorizing this selection has since that date been repealed; that consequently the persons from whom the names were so selected are not lawful grand jurors. The second ground which I will notice, is that in filling the panel of the grand jury, the court ordered that the Sheriff summon the additional persons from the body of the county, and not from the bystanders, and that this direction, excepting the bystanders from the persons from whom the Sheriff should select the additional jurors, is not authorized by the law, and that therefore the whole body is illegal. This second ground is also the basis of the motion to dismiss the case.

"It is admitted that the names of persons in the grand jury box were properly selected in January last in accordance with the provisions of the law then in force, so that if there had been no change in the law, the grand Jurors then selected would still remain the legal grand jurors for the current year. The selections were made by the Board of Supervisors, as provided in sections 204 and 205 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Afterward, on March 23, 1893, the Legislature amended these sections so that they now require the selections to be made by the Superior Court instead of by the Board of Supervisors. The contention is that this amendment has the effect to destroy the legality of what was done under the previous law, and that since the amendment has the effect to destroy the legality mp similar question in the case of Bruner vs. Superior Court, 92 Cal., on page 243: 'In determining whether or not there be such legal power, we must discard all consideration of the worthiness or unworthiness of the purposes sought to be attained in any particular case.' And again, on page 265: 'A body of men sworn as a grand jury, if not impanelled in pursuance of law, is not a grand jury; an accusatory paper presented to the court by such body is not an indictment, and consequently the court has no jurisdiction to try a defendant upon such papers.' And in the same case, on page 249, the court says: 'The grand jury must be selected in the manner prescribed by law. There is no security to the citizen, but in a rigid adherence to the legislative will as expressed in the statutes. . The strict observance of the statute in regard to the formation of a jury cannot be dispensed with.

"In the case of the present grand jury, the Sheriff was, by the law, required to select the additional persons from the entire county. He did, in fact, make the selections from a part, only, of the county. The men of the county then in the courtroom were excluded. He, therefore, did not select them in the manner prescribed by the law. It seems to me that it follows in evitably that the body of men thus formed, and who returned the indictment under consideration, was not a legal grand jury, and that the indictment has no validity as the foundation of the prosecution. The court has no jurisdiction of the case. This was held in the case of Bruner' vs. Superior Court, above cited, and it was further held in that case that in such a case prohibition will lie to restrain further prosecution of the action. There being no jurisdiction, the only thing for the court to do is to dismiss the proceedings.

"The effect of the conclusions I have reached will be that the grand jury must be discharged, and that all other prosecutions now pending upon indictments are proper to do this. Section

"There can be no question that the court has power to do this. Section 1385 of the Penal Code provides that the court may, either of its own motion, or upon the application of the District Attorney, and in furtherance of justice, order an action or indictment to be dismissed. And every court has the inherent power, whenever it discovers the fact that it has no jurisdiction, to order the sction to be dismissed. In point of fact that is the only power it does possess in such a case.

law, there could be no drawing and no foundation could be laid to authorize the venire to issue.

"But I do not think the law should be construed as contended for by the defendants. It is true, as stated by the learned counsel for the defendants, that when, after a statutory proceeding has been instituted, and before it is completed, the statute under which it was begun is repealed, either directly, or by implication, the entire proceeding falls to the ground. But in this case the statutory process for the selection of persons to serve as grand jurors for this year had been carried out and completed before the repeal of the statute, and, therefore, the principle stated does not apply. Section 210, C.C.P., declares that, "The persons whose names are so returned shall be known as regular jurors, and shall serve for one year and until other persons are selected and returned." Nothing further remains to be done in that behalf until the succeeding year.

ments now to be dismissed would otherwise have followed the usual course, it is as well that they should be disposed of now. The code expressly provides that such a dismissal is not a bar to another prosecution for the same offense. So many of them as are well founded can therefore be prosecuted by information in the usual manner. An order will be made in each of the cases in which the motion to dismiss is made, that the case be dismisred by the court of its own motion, and a similar order will be entered in the case of each indictment—returned by the present grand jury and now pending in this court."

On the minute book of the court of its own motion and in furtherance of justice that this action and indictment be dismissed, and that the defendant be discharged and his bail exonerated (or that each of said defendants be discharged and their bail exonerated.) The reason for this dismissal is as follows: It has been shown to the court that in the impaneling of the grand jury, which returned this indictment, four of the said grand jury were men selected from a special venire of six persons summoned by the sheriff in pursuance of an order of court and a venire issued in pursuance thereof, which commanded him to summon 'six persons having the qualifications of grand jurors from the body of the county and not from the bystanders,' instead of commanding him to summon 'six good and lawful men of the county, as the law requires, and that by reason of this illegality in the impaneling of the grand jury the same is illegal and the indictments herein void, and the court than an further jurisdiction to proceed with the case." known as regular jurors, and shall serve for one year and until other persons are selected and returned. Nothing further remains to be done in that behalf until the succeeding year. These persons so chosen are the regular jurors for the year, and from their number the grand juries of the current year are to be taken. Section 210 has not been repealed or amended. By virtue of that section the persons returned as grand jurors by the Board of Supervisors last January are constituted the regular jurors for the year. "The amendment of section 205 is, by its own terms, and by the very nature of the case, prospective in its operation, and can have no practical effect until January, 1894, when the regular jurors for the ensuing year will be selected. At the time the afmendment was passed the jurors for this year had been already returned. It could not have been intended to set aside the selection thus made and leave the several counties without jurors and no means of selecting any until next year. "The next point is that the four jurors chosen from the special venire were not properly selected. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure applicable to this point are as follows: "Section 226. Whenever a sufficient number of jurors fail to appear such court may, by an order entered in its minutes, direct the Sheriff forthwith to summon so many good and lawful men of the county to serve as jurors, as may be required.

"Section 242. When, of the persons summoned as grand jurors and not excused, nineteen are present they shall constitute the grand jury.

If less than nineteen of such persons were regularly drawn from the box, and such persons were summoned to attend. Of these, after certain excuses were allowed, there remaind only fifteen. Thereupon the court made an order in its minutes directing the Sheriff forthwith to summon six persons, laving the body of the county, and not from the body of the county, and not from and the indictments nerein void, and the court has no further jurisdiction to proceed with the case."

There will not be another grand jury impaneling until next year, and, in all cases where the crime committed is susceptible of proof reasonably certain, information will be filed by the District Attorney and the prosecutions pro-ceeded with at once.

ouraging Reports Presented from Various Aission Fields-The Standin Full.

When the hour came for the adburnment of the Los Angeles Baptist Association at Monrovia Wednesday afternoon, which was 4 o'clock, the ielegates found about thirty carriages and hacks from Duarte and Monrovia, drawn up in front of the church, ready to give them a drive about the foothills until 6 p.m., when dinner was served at the Grand View Hotel. The evening session was devoted to The evening session was devoted to nome missions, and commenced at 7 o'clock with a praise service conducted by E. R. Bennett of Pomona, lasting thirty minutes, after which the stand-six persons required, was acting in excess of the authority conferred upon it by the code. It is altogether probable that this order was inadvertently entered in this form. The form is the same as that prescribed by the code for the case of trial jurors, when there are not enough regular jurors present to fill the panel, and as a venire for trial jurors is frequently ordered and a special venire for grand jurors is rarely issued, it is probable that the clerk, without the direction of the court, followed the usual form for trial jurors in entering the order. But of this there is no proof, and, so far as the validity of the order is concerned, it would be of no avail if there were. The venire was delivered to the Sheriff in pursuance of the order and it must be presumed that in executing it he followed its directions. The mistake in drawing or entering it cannot now be corrected, because the error, if there was one, has already been carried out, and has entered into the formation of the carried. ing committees were announced as fol-

A Treat in Store for the Lovers of Fine Paintings.

Tomorrow and tomorrow evening, an exhibition is to be made in the art gallery connected with Lichtenberger's art emporium, No. 107 North Main street, of a number of fine paintings by Mrs. J. H. Barchus, of Portland, Or., an artist who as a landscape painter, ranks with the great ones of the world. Mrs. Barchus, as connoisseurs will not need to be told, makes a specialty of Oregon scenery. Her eleven pictures at the World's Fair—all of which, by the way, were sold at extravagant prices, almost immediately after the opening—have brought her recently into great prominence, though among the cult, she was well known before, and has long been a member of the National Academy in New York, and exhibited with it annually. The specimens of her work to be exhibited here, consisting of views along the Columbia River, lake and mountain scenery, glimpses of Mt. Hood, Mt. Rainler, Mt. Shasta, etc., are in her very best style, and are exquisite beyond description. No lover of good pictures should on any account miss seeing this collection, especially as the exhibition is entirely free and everybody invited. It is also an opportunity for persons of means to secure genuine works of art, characteristic of the Western country, and in which they may hereafter forever take a genuine delight and pride.

Judgment Reversed by the Supreme Court.

Specific Performance Should Not Be Prayed for.

Outcome of the Appeal in the Fulton-Jansen Case.

of the City Board of Education Brings Suit for a Writ of Mandate Against Auditor Teale-Court Notes.

The Supreme Court has ordered the Judgment in the case of Joseph Fulton, respondent, vs. Christian Jansen et al., appellants, reversed, and the cause remanded for a new trial.

The action was brought by the respondent to enforce the specific performance of a centract to convey certain real property situated in Los Angeles county. The plaintiff had judgment, from which, and from an order donying a motion for a new trial, de-geles county. The plaintiff had judgment, from which, and from an order denying a motion for a new trial, defendant appealed.

The findings of the lower court showed in substance that on October 13, 1888, one Jason Brown, was the owner of the land in dispute, and of certain other land of which it was an undivided part; that Brown, in the presence of defendants, and upon the land, pointed out to the plaintiff certain boundaries defining the northerly portion of the tract, which he offered to sell to the plaintiff, and the latter agreed to buy for $400, $200 to be paid-in cash, and the remaining sum of $250 in one year, without interest, a deed to be executed and delivered when final payment was made. Fulton, the plaintiff, paid the $200 to Brown on the following day received a receipt therefor.

One hundred dollars of the amount so paid was borrowed from Christian Jansen, for which loan plaintiff gave a promissory note, payable within eighteen months with interest.

The plaintiff lived in a house near said land, upon which he entered and thereafter cut wood upon it, and removed it to his house for use as fuel. Defendants and plaintiff, were at that time intimate friends.

On November 5, following, Brown conveyed the whole tract of land, including that sold to the plaintiff, to defendants, they agreeing on their part that they would carry out with the plaintiff. Brown's contract to him. Afterward plaintiff tendered the remainder of the purchase money to defendants, and demanded of them a conveyance, which was refused.

The agreement of Brown to convey to plaintiff was verbal, and no memorandum or agreement in writing was had.

The agreement of Brown to convey to plaintiff was verbal, and no memorandum or agreement in writing was had.

The important questions in the case were: The contract between Brown and Fulton, being for the sale of the land, and not being in writing, was there such a part performance as to take the case out of the statute of frauds? If not, did, the case as made develop such a state of facts as to raise a resulting or constructive trust in favor of plaintiff, which would support the decree?

The Supreme Court is of the opinion that the only evidence under this head tended to prove that the plaintiff paid part of the purchase price, and used the land in question so far as to remove from it stove-wood for family use. This fell far short of making a case of specific performance. No improvements were made upon the property by the plaintiff. The evidence did not show that the lower court did not find that the plaintiff entered into possession of the property.

It was concluded that there could be no specific performance of the oral contract to convey, decreed upon the ground of such part performance as is shown in this case.

According to the complaint, plaintiff made a purchase of a tract of land, paid part of the purchase money, and was to pay the residue within one year. His, vendor then sold the land refused to consumate the transaction and convey the property, wherefore he sought the specific performance of the contract.

The findings showed that the concontract was verbal, and falled to show such preformance as to authorize a decree for specific performance. There was nothing averred in the complaint or found by the lower court which such preformance as to authorize a decree for specific performance. There was nothing averred in the complaint or found by the lower court which placed the defendants in a different position from that which the original vendor would have occupied had he not conveyed. The evidence tended to show that the defendants were liable as purchasers, with notice, but that by virtue of having advanced a portion of the purchase price, plaintiff acquired, as against them, a right not inherent to him as a purchaser, but which equity gave him by virtue of his relation to the defendants, and developed upon the latter a duty not arising in their character of purchasers, but growing out of the fact that in making such purchase they availed themselves of the money paid by plaintiff, out of which a new relation sprang, viz: That of trustee and beneficiary or a resulting trust in favor of the plaintiff.

The new relation being foreign to anything contained in the pleadings or findings, the court was authorized to invoke it, even in the aid of judgment.

FOR WRIT OF MANDATE.

Dr. C. T. Pepper, president of the City Board of Education, has commenced suit against City Auditor Fred H. Teale to secure a writ of mandate compelling the latter to pass upon a demand of $46.60, the same being for the payment of the expenses of the recent junketing trip taken by a committee of the board.

The complaint in the case recites that on August 28 the demand referred to was approved by the board as a whole, but, upon being presented to the Auditor, it was rejected.

On September 2 the board again formally approved the demand, and sent it down to the Auditor, only to have it once more returned, the Auditor steadily refusing to affix the required number upon it and record in the usual manner. The plaintiff asked that a writ of mandate be issued requiring Teale to pass the demand.

Informations will at once be filed in a number of these cases.

Judge Clark yesterday granted the plaintiff a decree of divorce in the case of Emma J. Wack vs. Frederick A. Wack. The prayer of the plaintiff was that $1000 damages for breach of marriage contract be awarded her, also $200, which she had loaned to Wack, and $300 in payment of wages for work performed.

EACH season cloaks become more of a necessity. The constant improvement in the designs makes this a Cloaks fit more beautiful, they have a better shape, it is necessary in having a perfect fitting cloak to have a perfect fitting dress. This is secured by a Worth Model in a Royal Worcester Corset. One helps the other. We talk more about style, more about fit, more about the cut of a garment than we do about the price. We buy cloaks from the best cloak manufacturers in this country. We confine our purchases to no one particular house, we go into the open market and select the best for fit. We study style and secure the ideas of the best buyers in the world by reading their views months in advance of the opening of the goods. We read the Berlin and Paris letters now for next spring's business, and are able to forecast next springs styles, the kind of materials that will be used, and when the Eastern houses are ready to show new goods, we keep our stock in a condition to be ready to buy; then the old goods must go, price is no object when a new style is on the wave. Last spring early we told you in our advertising that capes would be the biggest sellers for spring and summer; the story came true. We sold hundreds and hundreds of capes. Last June we told you that jackets with big sleeves and big collars would be the fashionable garment this fall and winter, and this is true to a letter. We secured our information from three of the best cloak designers in America, and it has proved true. We study closks we talk cloaks we adit has proven true. We study cloaks, we talk cloaks, we advertise cloaks and sell more cloaks than any two of the largest cloak houses in the city. Next spring we will add to this department tea gowns and dresses, and will then be in a position to again double trade. Our cloak trade must show constant gains. It must be on the increase. We are now preparing for next season's trade; it will show more than ever that this is cloak headquarters. And still the dress goods trade grows upon a basis of moderate prices. No extreme high priced novelties, plenty of the moderate priced goods that meets the idea of popular trade. Splendid value in strictly new styles and new colors for 50c, 60c, 65c, 75c and $1 a yard. New weaves and new shades. We cut, fit and baste capes free for all who buy their material here. Largest assortment of broacloths and sackings we ever carried. Plenty of new millinery at new prices. Stylish trimming combined with moderate prices.

Talking of the Tournament of Roses.

The Y. P. S. C. E. Convention Tom-Prominent Visitors In Rubio-The Local Brevities.

There is considerable discussion on the streets and everywhere touching the probabilities relative to a tournament of roses this winter, the usual date not being now very far ahead. It is quite probable that without spe-cial reflection upon the subject Pasadenians may permit themselves to fall into a feeling of indifference to this festival, which the community's interests do not warrant. That the winter season is not the richest in bloom-is, even, the opposite-is not sufficient ex-cuse for ignoring the festival. The purport of the tournament is not to dazzle. Californians with a lavish display of flowers; it is rather to emphasizs, in the minds of visitors from afar and cold.

The Santa Fe's tracks are now cleared of delayed passenger trains, no less than three through trains aroune, it is immense. It does for Pasadena what the corn palaces did for St. Paul; and in a proportionate way what the World's Fair itself is doing for Chicago. It becomes subject for magazine articles, profusely illustrated, which circulate wherever the English text is read.

The tournament of roses has heretofore been held under the auspices of the Valley Hunt Club. If it is not the the Valley Hunt Club. If it is not the purpose of the club to repeat the festival this season, the fact has at least not been proclaimed. ence is warranted that among the topics for discussion and determination at the annual meeting of the club, to be held on Saturday evening of this week, at the clubhouse, that of the tournament will be prominent.

It is well-enough, too, for the public in general to take the matter into consideration, and to be prepared to hear its part at the proper three.

A short session of the City Council

A short session of the City Council was held Thursday afternoon, at which Trustee Lukens announced on behalf of the Colorado-street Railway Company that a contract had been concluded between the company and Mr. Fairchild, covering the pavement between the tracks through the entire paved district of Colorado street. This puts that street's future among the desirable certainties, leaving only the intersections of the street with Raymond and Fair Oaks avenues yet to be attended to. Further than hearing this report the Council did nothing except to pass upon some matters of minor importance, which had been referred to committees the day before. among the older settlers of Pasadena. The City Council on Thursday refused permission asked by one man to construct an iron shed for storing hay on Union avenue, between Raymond and Fatr Oaks. A similar petition for the erection of a wooden shed near the same point, and another yet for bringing a small cottage from outside of to within the fire limits, shared a similar fate. As Attorney Arthur remarked, if the fire limits do not mean anything, what were they established for? A public mention of this matter may put intending builders upon their guard and avoid disappoinment, and not aim at individual convenience at the public expense. The position of the Council cannot be successfully assailed. This is the beginning of a mild sort of new era in Pasadena in several ways; an era at least of such permanency in her public improvements as was not practicable at an earlier stage of her development. The relaying of the Colorado-street car track is no less an evidence of this than the paving itself. The track is being placed in the middle of the street, for one thing, and for another, while the old rails are being used, the new ties are sleepers of sufficient quality and size to serve all the purposes of the electric road, which is soon to be placed over them. Only the rails will require changing. All these advance movements are expensive at a somewhat inopportune time, but they will remain a monument of broad economy long after even the silver Senators at Washington have rundown.

During the arrangements made by the commissioners in partition between San Diego and Riverside counties the question arose as to whether the bridges of the county are public property. William Collier, attorney for the Riverside commissioners, held that they are not such within the meaning of the law, and the District Attorney for San Diego county concurred in the opinion. This simplified matters considerably. Thomas P. Wilbur, a native of California, aged 23 years, a resident of Riverside, has secured a license to marry Ruth P. He said that by forbidding him to sell the wine the board confiscated property which he had been years in improving, and asked that he be permitted to continue the business of making and selling wine from his vineyards. Trustee White was inclined to the opinion that the wine could be made and sold in quantity by the petitioner, until the ordinance was read, and the District Attorney said that the wine could find out definitely about it by testing it at law.

There is a pretty rumpus in the Board of Education over the ill manners of several members who smoke during the session. The habit is chiefly objectionable because of the presence of two ladles on the board. The president, Mr. Mulford, is a good, easy-going sort of a man, awfully touchy of his precious dignity, but is afraid to reprove ill-mannered members. One member is said to have told him to his face' the other day that if he did not brace up and make the board behave the member would resign from the board.

People Becoming Impatient Because the Heathen are Not Deported Fast Enough-Redlands Stormwater Drains.

Trouble is again anticipated at Men-one over the Chinese question. It was the turbulent element from that place which gave such an ugly turn to the anti-Chinese demonstrations in this city, resulting in the arming of the citizens to guard Chinatown, and the placing of four companies of militia under arms. As so few of the yellow-skins of that region have been got rid of-fewer by arrests under the Geary act than by being driven out by the mobs-the latter begin to feel again that the way to get rid of them is to drive them out by force. The agitators do not seem to recognize that the whole of Southern California is to be looked after, and that in due time the Chinese in their neighborhood will be upon the list for deportation, and the country will find itself in better shape through will find itself in better shape through the acts of law-abiding citizens than could be the case through violent and tilegal conduct. One reason that more are not leaving voluntarily is that Riverside, which was a haven to which many hied to from here, and later Florence, to which place still more went, have had Chinamen arrested, and they, know not whither to fiee for safety.

Many of these trees have already been cut back, and the trunks have been washed with the coal oil or resin preparation. Some have been dug up and burned. "Prof. C. U. Coquillett and Prof. N. B. Pierce are investigating, and I hope that they will be able to discover the cause. A NOTABLE ISSUE.

The Admission Day Edition of the Spirit of the Times.

The Admission day addition of the California Spirit of the Times, already briefly referred to in these columns, was one of the most valuable editions of that paper ever sent out. Its letter was one of the most valuable editions of that paper ever sent—out. Its letter press covers the entire State of California, and in addition thereto it is copiously illustrated.

Marcus D. Boruck, its editor and proprietor, who, by the way, is the oldest editor in point of service on one paper in the State, is a strong and sturdy friend of Southern California, as is evinced by the fact that sixteen pages of this special edition are given up to a most comprehensive and praiseful description of the great and growing section of the golden commonwealth which lies south of the Tehachepirange.

section of the golden commonwealth which lies south of the Tehachepi range.

In speaking of the things that go to make up the glory of the South, Mr. Boruck thus pleasantly says:

"The people of Southern California, the great majority of whom form an Eastern colony, have brought with their 'lares and penates' that grand idea in its truest acceptation of 'In union there is strength,' and they push it to the front with all the power at their command; and under all circumstances.

"They are building up an empire within the most fertile and fruitful State there is in the Union, and they intend keeping on building, involving every point of the compass. It is a proposition to advance, that not more than 30 per cent. of their number have crossed the border line at Tehachepi. They say they have come from every other section of the Union to this, to settle, to invest their means, in business pursuits of various kinds, and to build up their surroundings to the very best advantage. Se far as any other part of the State is concerned it does not impress them save in the matter of competition, and to this they devote themselves with earnestness and assiduity."

The Times has special reason to feel a pride in the Spirit of the Times's latest achievement, for one full page of the special issue under notice is devoted to a history and description of this paper, its progress, influence and success.

Being issued from a section of the State far removed from the favorable.

Being issued from a section of the State far removed from the favorable bias that usually affects local publications. Mr. Boruck's big issue of seventy pages is especially valuable for sending abroad to prospective home-seekers in the beautiful land where the orange blossoms blow.

"We always fry ours in Cottolene."

Our Meat, Fish, Oysters, Saratoga Chips, Eggs, Doughnuts, Vegetables, etc.

Like most other people, our folks formerly used lard for all such purposes. When it disagreed with any of the family (which it often did,) we said it was "too rich." We finally tried and not one of us has had an attack of "richness" since. We further found that, unlike lard, Cottolene had ,no unpleasant codor when cooking, and lastly Mother's favorite and conservative cooking authority came out and gave it a big recommendation which clinched the matter. So that's why we always fry ours in Cottolene.

WATERWORKS DEAL.

A Proposition to Sell Submitted to the City.

Messrs. Pierce and Shaffer Will Take $3.500 ooo for Their Bargain-The Price They Ask Regarded as

On Saturday last The Times printed the first news that negotiations were the first news that negotiations were pending looking to the sale of the waterworks to the city, and that a pre-liminary conference had been held on Friday between Messrs. Shaffer and Pierce and Councilmen Munson, Innes, Campbell and Nickell, when the matter was talked over. Since that time there have been a number of informal dishave been a number of informal dis-cussions, but nothing definite was ar-rived at until yesterday, when Messrs. Shaffer and Pierce submitted a propo sition to the representatives of the city, offering to sell the entire plant outright for the sum of $3,500,000.

This is regarded by those who appear to be competent to judge as so high a price that if the proposition of pear to be competent to judge as so high a price that if the proposition of voting bonds for the same be submitted to the people they will fall far short of voting such bonds.

Messrs. Pierce and Shaffer, however, argue that they ought not to be asked to name a lower figure. They state that there is a bonded indebtedness against the plant amounting to $800,000. They further say that they will assume the debt standing against the 1300 tons of pipe recently purchased. They have purchased the plant of the Citizens' Water Company, besides a number of tracts of land at various places where considered needful, and have put in a quantity of new machinery. In consideration of all these facts they urge that the price is not too high.

It has been generally understood that the price at which Messrs. Shaffer and Pierce agreed to purchase the waterworks was in round numbers $2,500,000 for the entire plant, the sellers to take care of the bonded indebtedness, and to turn the works over to them free of all incumbrances for that figure. On this they have paid but $50,000. A second payment of $200,000 is now due and unpaid. If they could sell out to the city at $3,500,000, it will readily be seen that there would remain quite a handsome profit, even after assuming the 1300-ton pipe contract, on a $50,000 investment.

THE ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

The Controversy Over the Cost of the Ex-tensions.

The controversy between the Citizens'

League and County Auditor Lopez is becoming interesting. In a lengthy communication to The Times Mr. Lopez

"Mr. Griffith, in replying to my com munication yesterday, gives a letter from W. R. If he does not make good his statement I will devote his $50 to a fund to compel Mr. Griffith and others of his lik to pay their just taxes. Now, let Mr. Blackman come forward and prove his statements.

Young Stewart Arraigned.

On the announcement yesterday to the effect that the grand jury had been decided illegal, a complaint was promptly filed in Justice Austin's court as sworn to by Street Superintendent Watson, charging Arthur I Stewart, his former deputy, with grand larceny. Constable Richardson went to the County Jail and served the warrant on Stewart, who was arraigned before Justice Austin later in the day.

The preliminary examination was set for next Tuesday. This proceeding was rendered necessary for the reason that all that had been done by the grand jury in the case immediately became invalid upon the grand jury being adjudged illegal.

Does it Make any Difference to You

Can you buy a better hat than the Stetson? We have the genuine article that we sell for $1.00 less than the hatter. We carry the celebrated Wilson hats which have derived their popularity all through the East from the fact that they retain their color. Mr. Wilson is renowned as the best dyer of brown felts in the United States. In buying this hat you get the quality and get the wear you get everywhere except paying for the brand and name of certain lines of hats that are sold regardless of quality but simply upon the reputation of the maker.

everywhere except paying for the brand and name of certain lines of hats that are sold regardless of quality but simply upon the reputation of the maker.

Nearly every hat house in town carries the Wilson hat. The only difference between theirs and ours is that they charge you from 50c to $1.00 more according to price and quality. We hear it remarked every day in the week by gentlemen friends who favor us with their patronage that they are surprised at the character and quality of our stock. "Why," they exclaim, "you never used to carry such fine goods." We never did in the past, but we have them at present and will carry the finest in the future. We are selling agents for the celebrated Lewis Knitting Company, who manufacture the finest underwear made in the United States and they equal if not surpass the finest manufactured in Europe. These garments run as high as $6.00 a piece and for the quality they are sold closer than the ordinary 50c shirt.

We have just placed in stock a new line of gents' white laundered shirts, the best for the monay that we were able to purchase. They excel in point of style, fit and quality for the price anything we have ever been able to show. They range in price from . 75c to $1.50 apiece. You will find them a special value at each of the prices quoted.

Our Gents' Furnishing Department is being built up on the basis of selling the best goods for the lowest price possible. If you look into the windows of some of the self-styled "Leading Furnishers" of Los Angeles you will notice the difference between them and us. They are trying to see how poor a quality they can get to sell at a price. The cheaper the article displayed the lower the price, the the more effective they seem to think they are. On the contrary we are elevating the tone of our business while they are running theirs down.

We have opened a line of Men's Fall Neckwear and for style and quality aft 50c, 75c and $1.00 they cannot be duplicated within 25c of the price anywhere. We would esteem it a favor to have you come

Have you looked into the Millinery Department since it has been refitted and refurnished? Have you seen the styles that we are showing in hats this season? We have been complimented by milliners on our exquisite and praise-deserving styles. Fine birds usually have fine feathers, but in this instance you will find our fine birds at a most reasonable price and everything in our Millinery Department in proportion. We aim to establish the fact that our Millinery is sold at the same ratio of profit that every other article in the house bears and the immense patronage that we have had so far in that department proves our asser-

say marvelous because in our history as merchants we have never placed them upon the counter; we opened several cases of black and fancy novelty dress goods yesterday that are from 40 to 44 inches wide, come in colors and black and the price is 75c a yard. They are French imported dress goods that we have never lain on the counter in the world under $1.25 a yard. We could call your attention to a number of very special values and show you the reasonableness of our stock, but if you are interested in dress goods and will come in and see this line of French Imported Novelties at 75c and the line of Priestley's Black Fancy Dress Goods at $1.00 we are sure that we can convince you that we have the finest and lowest priced stock of Silks, Dress Goods and Velvets in Los Angeles.

Of course you are aware of the stringency of the money market, We had some little experience here and you know what distress some of us were in about that time. That was not a circumstance to the condition it found the Eastern manufacturers and importers. So much so that the very largest manufacturers in the United States who were considered worth millions were obliged to throw their product in the auction market to realize or else slaughter them to private individuals in order to raise cash to keep their end up. All during that time we had large sums of money deposited both at our New York and Los Angeles banks and are today awaiting an opportunity to purchase goods at such prices as justify us in making an investment therein. One importer of Lace Curtains was obliged to sacrifice his stock to the firm of Wilmerding, Morris & Mitchell of New York, commission merchants, who had made large advances on it. Being unable to pay up, they foreclosed his stock and sold a portion of it to us. We never had such values in Lace Curtains in our house in our lives. We opened up 100 pairs, 3½ yds. Curtains at $1.75 a pair in white or ecru that we could not buy under ordinary circumstances ourselves at $2.00 a pair.

100 pairs each are opened at $2, $2.50, we never sold them under 15c.

The genuine imported Faench Flannels, neither domestic nor German make, but French, that cost 55c a yard to land in New York and that are sold all over the the United States at 75c are offered to you today at 50c a yard; they an'are extra

Our Drug Dept always has about as much as it can do in the ordinary way, but a notice now and then calling your attention to the prices to which we cut them will prove in teresting to your pocketbook.

There seems to be an epidemic of colds, and there is nothing so good as Dr. Koch's Cough Syrup at 25c. a bottle: if it does not give relief your 25c awaits you upon the return of the bottle.

Dr. Koch's Hirsutine for the hair, in strengthening the growth and keeping the bead free from dandruff, has no superior. We have used it ourselves for three years, and account of its sterling qualities, we have introduced it to this department.

Dr. Koch's Sarsaparilla at 75c a bottle excels any other that is sold in the market. It is a German compound, and goer right to the spot.

Our stock of combs and brushes, both tooth, hair and clothes, is very extensive, and the prices are much lower than you will find at druggists sundry departments. We carry every known patent medicine guarantee every bottle to be genuine, and cut the price on all of them.
